Information: Jaipur's popular monuments generally open between 9:00 am and 10:00 am and close between 4:30 pm and 5:30 pm. Some monuments like Amer Fort and Nahargarh Fort have slightly different closing times, closing at 5:30 pm and 5:30 pm respectively.

Amer fort: The Amer Fort in Jaipur showcases a harmonious blend of Rajput and Mughal architectural styles, featuring sandstone, marble, and intricate carvings. Opulent palace is laid out on four levels, each with a courtyard. It consists of the Diwan-e-Aam, or "Hall of Public Audience", the Diwan-e-Khas, or "Hall of Private Audience", the Sheesh Mahal (mirror palace), or Jai Mandir, and the Sukh Niwas where a cool climate is artificially created by winds that blow over a water cascade within the palace. Hence, the Amer Fort is also popularly known as the Amer Palace.

City Palace: Located deep within the walled city, the City Palace Complex was conceived and built by Maharaja Sawai Jai Singh II, the founder of Jaipur. A beautiful fusion of Mughal and Rajput architecture, the palace is still home to the last ruling royal family which lives in a private section of the palace. Maharaja Sawai Jai Singh II is credited with building most of the structures, but it was expanded upon by later rulers as well. The City Palace Complex includes the Mubarak Mahal (the palace of reception) and the Maharani's Palace (the palace of the queen). Mubarak Mahal is now home to Deputy Chief Minister Diya Kumari. She is the granddaughter of former Man Singh II
